*UN troops shot to death Sonia Romélus, 22, and her sons Nelson, 1, and Stanley, 4, in their home on July 6, 2005 in Cité Soleil. Now the killers will be judged.

For three years, Washington, Paris and Ottawa working with Haiti's ruling elite, former soldiers and death-squad leaders carried out a destabilization campaign culminating in the February 29, 2004 kidnapping and overthrow of President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

To quell resistance to the coup, armies from the U.S., France, Canada and the United Nations have occupied Haiti and carried out or aided massacres of hundreds of Haitian citizens, including women, children and infants.

It is time that the criminals be judged.

Testimony and evidence of these crimes will be presented at the third session of the International Tribunal on Haiti. The tribunal, which has held sessions in Washington, DC and Boston, will prepare a case to be submitted to the International Criminal Court in The Hague. A Commission of Inquiry headed by former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark will present its findings. Witnesses will include former political prisoner Father Gérard Jean-Juste.

Come witness history in the making.

Victims and witnesses of violence before, during or after the February coup are encouraged to contact the Tribunal.
