

Port-au-Prince, January 4, 2005 (AHP)- Two people were killed and several others arrested this Tuesday at the Cité de l'Eternel located along Bicentenaire Street.

The killings were carried out by police officers dressed in black and camouflage.

According to area residents, the dead are Jean Ferres Nazaire, age 28, and Angela, a girl of 13.

The residents of Cité l'Eternel are accusing the police of displaying a revolting lack of professionalism.

"When the police storm into a neighborhood they have a tendency to shoot everything that moves and that's what is behind the tragedy of January 4", they protested, affirming that the two people who were shot dead had nothing to do with the violence prevailing in the Port-au-Prince metropolitan area.

AHP January 4, 2005 1:45 PM