NURTURING JUST VISIONS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN POST-EARTHQUAKE HAITI

Tues June 19, 6pm
Community Book Center

FREE

Like in New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina, Haitians are fighting for their human rights, justice and a voice in their own reconstruction. When the international press left, the struggle continued.

Why are 500,000 Haitians still under tarps? Where did the billions of dollars in "aid" go? How will the UN be held accountable for the Cholera epidemic? How can a concerned international community work to support Haitian human rights?

Panelists will discuss housing, health and post-disaster social movements.

Learn how you can take action to support Haitians' struggles.
